Ottawa, 3 November 2008

Notice of consultation

Review of various customer account management regulatory measures

Reference: 8663-C12-200814740

Introduction

1. In Order Issuing a Direction to the CRTC on Implementing the Canadian Telecommunications Policy Objectives, P.C. 2006-1534, 14 December 2006 (the Policy Direction), the Governor in Council requires the Commission to, among other things, rely on market forces to the maximum extent feasible and when relying on regulation, use measures that interfere with market forces to the minimum extent necessary to meet the telecommunications policy objectives (the policy objectives) set out in section 7 of the Telecommunications Act. The Policy Direction also requires the Commission to ensure that non-economic measures are implemented, to the greatest extent possible, in a symmetrical and competitively neutral manner.
2. In Telecom Decision 2008-34, the Commission established an action plan to review existing social and non-economic regulatory measures in light of the Policy Direction. The action plan identified the regulatory requirements associated with company-initiated suspension or termination of service (the disconnection process), deposit policies, late payment charges, dishonoured payment charges (also referred to as not sufficient funds cheque charges), and toll restrict service.

Background

3. In Telecom Decision 86-7 the Commission established the Terms of Service that apply to all incumbent local exchange carrier (ILEC) tariffed services. These terms set out, among other things, the circumstances under which an ILEC may, and may not suspend or disconnect a customer's service, and the terms and conditions under which an ILEC may require a customer to provide a deposit.
4. In Telecom Decision 96-10, in order to address affordability concerns for consumers with low income, the Commission mandated the ILECs to offer a number of bill management tools including toll restrict service. Toll restrict service blocks consumers' access to 0+ and 1+ dialled toll calls with no activation charge; however ILECs are permitted to charge up to $10 to reinstate toll access.

5. To further address affordability concerns, the Commission has required ILECs to file and obtain approval for rates associated with late payments and dishonoured payments in regulated markets. With respect to late payment charges, the Commission requires ILECs to apply a rate using the monthly equivalent of the per annum prime rate of one of the major Canadian banks plus 7 percent.
6. In Decision 2006-15, the Commission considered that there would be exceptions where market forces may not be sufficient to protect the interests of all users in forborne markets. As a result, the Commission retained the regulatory obligations associated with the disconnection process and the deposit policies in forborne markets. The Commission also imposed a price ceiling on the charges and limits associated with late payment and dishonoured payment charges, inasmuch as they apply to stand-alone primary exchange service. The Commission did not retain the obligation to provide toll restrict service in forborne markets.

Call for comments

7. The Commission invites parties to comment, in light of the Policy Direction, on the continued appropriateness of the above-noted regulatory measures.
8. For each regulatory measure identified above, parties should address the following issues in their initial comments, providing supporting rationale and all evidence on which they rely, and structure their submissions according to the issues identified below:
 - (1) Can the purpose underlying the regulatory measure be achieved through the reliance on market forces or is the regulatory measure still necessary?
 - a) Identify the purpose of the regulatory measure and the policy objectives that are relevant to this purpose.
 - b) Can market forces be relied on to achieve the policy objectives? Why or why not?
 - c) Identify and weigh the positive and negative consequences of (i) eliminating, and (ii) retaining, the regulatory measure.
 - (2) Is the regulatory measure efficient and proportionate to its purpose?
 - a) Identify the benefits and the harmful effects of the regulatory measure. Explain whether the benefits of the regulatory measure outweigh the harmful effects.
 - b) Identify any alternative regulatory measure that would be more efficient and proportionate. Explain why that measure would be more efficient and proportionate and how it would achieve the policy objectives.

- (3) Does the regulatory measure interfere with the operation of competitive market forces to the minimum extent necessary to meet the policy objectives? If not, how and to what extent does the current regulatory measure interfere with the operation of competitive market forces, including the associated impacts on service providers and customers.
- (4) Is the regulatory measure implemented in a symmetrical and competitively neutral manner? If not,
 - a) Identify aspects of the regulatory measure that are not symmetrical and/or competitively neutral.
 - b) Specify disadvantages faced by service providers impacted by the regulatory measure and quantify the disadvantages to the extent possible.
 - c) Discuss the implications and feasibility of applying the regulatory measure in a symmetrical or competitively neutral manner to all Canadian carriers providing local exchange service.
 - d) Identify any possible alternative regulatory or non-regulatory measure and explain how that measure would achieve the policy objectives and comply with the Policy Direction.
